

Code of ethics for JEL volunteers

Object

The code of ethics sets out the principles and values that guide the various participants in their responsibilities and duties.

Your role as volunteer is very important: You have the task of stimulating an entrepreneurial culture and to share your know-how as well as your professional experience.

The code sets out the principals to which Jonk Entrepreneuren Luxembourg (JEL) aspires and the behaviours we shall adopt in our professional roles.

Principles and values at JEL

- Treat all people with courtesy and respect
- Respect the different professions and industries
- Motivate young people to take initiatives, to create, to innovate, and to take responsibility
- Increase self-confidence amongst young people by empowering them to use their full potential
- Promote cooperation between schools and the business world
- Respect everyone's values, rights and beliefs
- Develop a dynamic, positive and constructive approach
- Demonstrate availability and diligence with regards to the participants

We are convinced that these principles will be useful to you when volunteering for JEL. They shall also enable you to deliver your knowledge and skills in an engaging way. Most importantly, though, we would like to thank you for your commitment and support. Your input and engagement are important for young people and are certainly an investment into their future.

We would be thrilled to add you to our network of volunteers. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.
